California Deputy A.G. Lisa Cisneros for Magistrate Judgeship in San Francisco

The U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California is pleased to announce that it has selected California Deputy Attorney General Lisa J. Cisneros to fill the magistrate judgeship recently vacated by Judge Jacqueline Scott Corley upon her appointment as a U.S. District Judge.

Ms. Cisneros will join the court from the California Department of Justice, where she serves as a Deputy Attorney General in the Civil Rights Enforcement Section. In this capacity, she has represented California and its agencies in complex affirmative and defensive litigation, primarily in the federal trial and appellate courts. Ms. Cisneros has led teams litigating cases in the areas of gender equality, immigration, healthcare, workplace safety, and antidiscrimination law.

Ms. Cisneros graduated from Brown University in 2001 and received her law degree from UC Berkeley School of Law in 2007. She began her legal career at California Rural Legal Assistance, Inc., (CRLA) where she started and led the LGBT Program. The Program provides direct representation and advocacy for low-income LGBT individuals in rural areas; it has become a nationwide model for LGBT legal services. At CRLA, Ms. Cisneros also assisted with federal litigation outside of the LGBT Program and participated in several mediations and settlement negotiations.

From 2010–2012, Ms. Cisneros served as a law clerk for U.S. District Judge Claudia Wilken of this court. Following her clerkship, Ms. Cisneros practiced for two years as an Associate at Lieff Cabraser Heimann & Bernstein, LLP, where she assisted with suits on behalf of employees and consumers in mass tort, class action, and antitrust cases. This work involved extensive exposure to discovery disputes, settlement conferences, and multidistrict litigation. Ms. Cisneros also maintained an active pro bono practice, including writing amicus briefs to the federal appellate courts, including the Supreme Court. Ms. Cisneros then returned to CRLA for four years, before moving to her current role at the California Department of Justice in 2019.

In addition to her law practice, Ms. Cisneros was appointed by the Governor as a member of the California Fair Employment & Housing Council, where she promulgated regulations and conducted hearings from 2017–2018.

The Court warmly welcomes Magistrate Judge-Select Cisneros and anticipates that her knowledge of federal law and practice will enhance the Court's service to litigants in the San Francisco Division. Her selection is contingent on the successful completion of a background review by the FBI.

		TWITTER'S REQUEST TO THE CLERK FOR ISSUANCE OF DMCA SUBPOENA

1	Twitter, Inc. ("Twitter"), through its undersigned counsel of record, hereby requests that
2	the Clerk of this Court issue a subpoena to GitHub, Inc. ("GitHub") to identify an alleged infringer
3	or infringers, pursuant to the Digital Millennium Copyright Act ("DMCA"), 17 U.S.C. § 512(h)
4	(the "DMCA Subpoena"). The proposed DMCA Subpoena is attached hereto as Exhibit A.
5	The DMCA Subpoena is directed to service provider GitHub. GitHub operates a website
6	to which the infringing party or parties (identified by their GitHub username as
7	FreeSpeechEnthusiast) posted various excerpts of Twitter source code, which posting infringes
8	copyrights held by Twitter in those materials (the "Infringing Content"). (See Declaration of Julian
9	Moore, ¶ 2.)
10	Twitter has satisfied the requirements for issuance of a subpoena pursuant to 17 U.S.C. §
11	512(h), namely:
12	(1) Twitter has submitted a copy of the DMCA notification required by 17 U.S.C. §
13	512(c)(3)(A) as Exhibit 1 to the Julian Moore Declaration, filed concurrently herewith;
14	(2) Twitter has submitted the proposed DMCA Subpoena concurrently herewith; and
15	(3) Twitter has submitted a sworn declaration confirming that the purpose for which
16	$\frac{1}{5}$ the DMCA Subpoena is sought is to obtain the identity of an alleged infringer or infringers, and
17	that such information will only be used for the purpose of protecting Twitter's rights under Title
18	8 17 U.S.C. § 512(h)(2).
19	Accordingly, in support of its request for a DMCA Subpoena, Twitter submits and
20	attaches:
21	• A copy of the DMCA notification described in 17 U.S.C. § 512(c)(3)(A) (see Julian
22	Moore Decl., Ex. 1);
23	• A proposed DMCA Subpoena directed to the service provider, GitHub (Ex. A hereto); and
24	• A sworn declaration that the purpose for which the DMCA Subpoena is sought is
25	proper under the DMCA. (See Julian Moore Decl., \P 4.)
26	Because Twitter has complied with the statutory requirements, Twitter respectfully
27	requests that the Clerk expeditiously issue and sign the proposed DMCA Subpoena pursuant to 17
28	U.S.C. § 512(h)(4) and return it to undersigned counsel for service on the subpoena recipient.

(B) within the state where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person, if the person

(i) is a party or a party's officer; or

(ii) is commanded to attend a trial and would not incur substantial expense.

(2) For Other Discovery. A subpoena may command:

(A) production of documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things at a place within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; and

(B) inspection of premises at the premises to be inspected.

(d) Protecting a Person Subject to a Subpoena; Enforcement.

(1) Avoiding Undue Burden or Expense; Sanctions. A party or attorney responsible for issuing and serving a subpoena must take reasonable steps to avoid imposing undue burden or expense on a person subject to the subpoena. The court for the district where compliance is required must enforce this duty and impose an appropriate sanction—which may include lost earnings and reasonable attorney's fees—on a party or attorney who fails to comply.

(2) Command to Produce Materials or Permit Inspection.

(A) Appearance Not Required. A person commanded to produce documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things, or to permit the inspection of premises, need not appear in person at the place of production or inspection unless also commanded to appear for a deposition, hearing, or trial.

(B) Objections. A person commanded to produce documents or tangible things or to permit inspection may serve on the party or attorney designated in the subpoena a written objection to inspecting, copying, testing, or sampling any or all of the materials or to inspecting the premises—or to producing electronically stored information in the form or forms requested. The objection must be served before the earlier of the time specified for compliance or 14 days after the subpoena is served. If an objection is made, the following rules apply:

(i) At any time, on notice to the commanded person, the serving party may move the court for the district where compliance is required for an order compelling production or inspection.

(ii) These acts may be required only as directed in the order, and the order must protect a person who is neither a party nor a party's officer from significant expense resulting from compliance.

(3) Quashing or Modifying a Subpoena.

(A) When Required. On timely motion, the court for the district where compliance is required must quash or modify a subpoena that:

(i) fails to allow a reasonable time to comply;

(ii) requires a person to comply beyond the geographical limits specified in Rule 45(c);

(iii) requires disclosure of privileged or other protected matter, if no exception or waiver applies; or

(iv) subjects a person to undue burden.

(B) When Permitted. To protect a person subject to or affected by a subpoena, the court for the district where compliance is required may, on motion, quash or modify the subpoena if it requires:

(i) disclosing a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information; or

(ii) disclosing an unretained expert's opinion or information that does not describe specific occurrences in dispute and results from the expert's study that was not requested by a party.

(C) Specifying Conditions as an Alternative. In the circumstances described in Rule 45(d)(3)(B), the court may, instead of quashing or modifying a subpoena, order appearance or production under specified conditions if the serving party:

(i) shows a substantial need for the testimony or material that cannot be otherwise met without undue hardship; and

(ii) ensures that the subpoenaed person will be reasonably compensated.

(e) Duties in Responding to a Subpoena.

(1) Producing Documents or Electronically Stored Information. These procedures apply to producing documents or electronically stored information:

(A) Documents. A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents must produce them as they are kept in the ordinary course of business or must organize and label them to correspond to the categories in the demand.

(B) Form for Producing Electronically Stored Information Not Specified. If a subpoena does not specify a form for producing electronically stored information, the person responding must produce it in a form or forms in which it is ordinarily maintained or in a reasonably usable form or forms.

(C) Electronically Stored Information Produced in Only One Form. The person responding need not produce the same electronically stored information in more than one form.

(D) Inaccessible Electronically Stored Information. The person responding need not provide discovery of electronically stored information from sources that the person identifies as not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. On motion to compel discovery or for a protective order, the person responding must show that the information is not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. If that showing is made, the court may nonetheless order discovery from such sources if the requesting party shows good cause, considering the limitations of Rule 26(b)(2)(C). The court may specify conditions for the discovery.

(2) Claiming Privilege or Protection.

(A) Information Withheld. A person withholding subpoenaed information under a claim that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial-preparation material must:

(i) expressly make the claim; and

(ii) describe the nature of the withheld documents, communications, or tangible things in a manner that, without revealing information itself privileged or protected, will enable the parties to assess the claim.

(B) Information Produced. If information produced in response to a subpoena is subject to a claim of privilege or of protection as trial-preparation material, the person making the claim may notify any party that received the information of the claim and the basis for it. After being notified, a party must promptly return, sequester, or destroy the specified information and any copies it has; must not use or disclose the information until the claim is resolved; must take reasonable steps to retrieve the information if the party disclosed it before being notified; and may promptly present the information under seal to the court for the district where compliance is required for a determination of the claim. The person who produced the information must preserve the information until the claim is resolved.

(g) Contempt.

The court for the district where compliance is required—and also, after a motion is transferred, the issuing court—may hold in contempt a person who, having been served, fails without adequate excuse to obey the subpoena or an order related to it.

For access to subpoena materials, see Fed. R. Civ. P. 45(a) Committee Note (2013).

	MOORE DECLARATIO FOR ISSUANCE OF	N IN SUPPORT OF TWITTER'S REQUEST SECTION 512(h) SUBPOENA TO GITHUB

1 purpose of Twitter's DMCA Subpoena is to identify the alleged infringer or infringers who posted 2 Twitter's source code on systems operated by GitHub without Twitter's authorization, which 3 postings infringe copyrights held by Twitter (the "Infringing Content"). I have personal knowledge of the facts contained herein and, if called upon to do so, I could and would testify 4 5 competently thereto. 3. On March 24, 2023, I submitted on behalf of Twitter a DMCA notification, via 6 7 GitHub's online DMCA notification form (which can be accessed at Copyright - DMCA 8 takedown notice - GitHub Support), identifying the Infringing Content on GitHub's systems and 9 providing the information required by 17 U.S.C. 512(c)(3)(A). Attached hereto as Exhibit 1 is a 10 true and correct copy of the email reflecting the information I submitted through GitHub's online 11 form, along with GitHub's response to the DMCA notification. I was authorized to act on behalf 12 of Twitter in submitting this DMCA notification. 13 4. The purpose for which Twitter's DMCA Subpoena is sought is to obtain the 14 identity of an alleged infringer or infringers, and such information will only be used for the purpose of protecting Twitter's rights under title 17 U.S.C. §§ 100, et seq. 15 16 I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of California and the United 17 States of America that the foregoing is true and correct. 18 Executed on March 24, 2023 at San Francisco, California.

AO 88B (Rev. 02/14) Subpoena to Produce Documents, Information, or Objects or to Permit Inspection of Premises in a Civil Action(Page 3)

Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 45 (c), (d), (e), and (g) (Effective 12/1/13)

(c) Place of Compliance.

(1) For a Trial, Hearing, or Deposition. A subpoena may command a person to attend a trial, hearing, or deposition only as follows:

(A) within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; or

(B) within the state where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person, if the person

(i) is a party or a party's officer; or

(ii) is commanded to attend a trial and would not incur substantial expense.

(2) For Other Discovery. A subpoena may command:

(A) production of documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things at a place within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; and

(B) inspection of premises at the premises to be inspected.

(d) Protecting a Person Subject to a Subpoena; Enforcement.

(1) Avoiding Undue Burden or Expense; Sanctions. A party or attorney responsible for issuing and serving a subpoena must take reasonable steps to avoid imposing undue burden or expense on a person subject to the subpoena. The court for the district where compliance is required must enforce this duty and impose an appropriate sanction—which may include lost earnings and reasonable attorney's fees—on a party or attorney who fails to comply.

(2) Command to Produce Materials or Permit Inspection.

(A) Appearance Not Required. A person commanded to produce documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things, or to permit the inspection of premises, need not appear in person at the place of production or inspection unless also commanded to appear for a deposition, hearing, or trial.

(B) Objections. A person commanded to produce documents or tangible things or to permit inspection may serve on the party or attorney designated in the subpoena a written objection to inspecting, copying, testing, or sampling any or all of the materials or to inspecting the premises—or to producing electronically stored information in the form or forms requested. The objection must be served before the earlier of the time specified for compliance or 14 days after the subpoena is served. If an objection is made, the following rules apply:

(i) At any time, on notice to the commanded person, the serving party may move the court for the district where compliance is required for an order compelling production or inspection.

(ii) These acts may be required only as directed in the order, and the order must protect a person who is neither a party nor a party's officer from significant expense resulting from compliance.

(3) Quashing or Modifying a Subpoena.

(A) When Required. On timely motion, the court for the district where compliance is required must quash or modify a subpoena that:

(i) fails to allow a reasonable time to comply;

(ii) requires a person to comply beyond the geographical limits specified in Rule 45(c);

(iii) requires disclosure of privileged or other protected matter, if no exception or waiver applies; or

(iv) subjects a person to undue burden.

(B) When Permitted. To protect a person subject to or affected by a subpoena, the court for the district where compliance is required may, on motion, quash or modify the subpoena if it requires:

(i) disclosing a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information; or

(ii) disclosing an unretained expert's opinion or information that does not describe specific occurrences in dispute and results from the expert's study that was not requested by a party.

(C) Specifying Conditions as an Alternative. In the circumstances described in Rule 45(d)(3)(B), the court may, instead of quashing or modifying a subpoena, order appearance or production under specified conditions if the serving party:

(i) shows a substantial need for the testimony or material that cannot be otherwise met without undue hardship; and

(ii) ensures that the subpoenaed person will be reasonably compensated.

(e) Duties in Responding to a Subpoena.

(1) Producing Documents or Electronically Stored Information. These procedures apply to producing documents or electronically stored information:

(A) Documents. A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents must produce them as they are kept in the ordinary course of business or must organize and label them to correspond to the categories in the demand.

(B) Form for Producing Electronically Stored Information Not Specified. If a subpoena does not specify a form for producing electronically stored information, the person responding must produce it in a form or forms in which it is ordinarily maintained or in a reasonably usable form or forms.

(C) Electronically Stored Information Produced in Only One Form. The person responding need not produce the same electronically stored information in more than one form.

(D) Inaccessible Electronically Stored Information. The person responding need not provide discovery of electronically stored information from sources that the person identifies as not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. On motion to compel discovery or for a protective order, the person responding must show that the information is not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. If that showing is made, the court may nonetheless order discovery from such sources if the requesting party shows good cause, considering the limitations of Rule 26(b)(2)(C). The court may specify conditions for the discovery.

(2) Claiming Privilege or Protection.

(A) Information Withheld. A person withholding subpoenaed information under a claim that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial-preparation material must:

(i) expressly make the claim; and

(ii) describe the nature of the withheld documents, communications, or tangible things in a manner that, without revealing information itself privileged or protected, will enable the parties to assess the claim.

(B) Information Produced. If information produced in response to a subpoena is subject to a claim of privilege or of protection as trial-preparation material, the person making the claim may notify any party that received the information of the claim and the basis for it. After being notified, a party must promptly return, sequester, or destroy the specified information and any copies it has; must not use or disclose the information until the claim is resolved; must take reasonable steps to retrieve the information if the party disclosed it before being notified; and may promptly present the information under seal to the court for the district where compliance is required for a determination of the claim. The person who produced the information must preserve the information until the claim is resolved.

(g) Contempt.

The court for the district where compliance is required—and also, after a motion is transferred, the issuing court—may hold in contempt a person who, having been served, fails without adequate excuse to obey the subpoena or an order related to it.

For access to subpoena materials, see Fed. R. Civ. P. 45(a) Committee Note (2013).
